

Warm Up: Final Jeopardy Question

This occurs when organisms of the same or different species attempt to use an ecological resource in the same place at the same time. Often results in a winner and loser-with the losing organism failing to survive.

(What is this?)

Copy the complete statement; however fill in the correct term in place of this.

