

Warm Up

In the presence of light, plants transform carbon dioxide and water into carbohydrates and release oxygen.

Write a chemical equation to show the above statement about photosynthesis.